1. Read the passage carefully :

India lost its first ever woman astronaut in Kalpana Chawla, when the space shuttle Columbia came apart immediately after its re-entry into the earth's atmosphere. Travelling at a speed of 20,000 km / hour, the shuttle exploded 200,000 feet over Texas just fifteen minutes before it was supposed to land. With a shuttle blown to smithereens, the seven astronauts on board met a tragic end. Speculations are being made that the cause of the tragedy was the possible damage to the heat resistant tiles on the left wing of the shuttle.

Kalpana Chawla was aptly named - she had imagination in abundance. She dared to dream and dream big.

When she joined engineering, there were only seven girls in the entire engineering college and she was the first girl to go into Aerospace Engineering.

She topped the aeronautical course and USA beckoned. In 1984 she did her MS in Aeronautical Engineering from the University of Texas. In 1988, she joined NASA's Research Centre in the area of powered life computational fluid dynamics.

Kalpana had always been a good teacher herself, sponsoring and hosting students on the visits to USA as part of NASA's exchange programme so that the next generation of astronauts would be ready to take over the baton when the time came. In an email message from the space shuttle Columbia, she told students of the Punjab Engineering College, "The path from dreams to success does exist. May you have the vision to find it, the courage to get onto it and the perseverance to follow it". One can only say amen to that! She never had the premonition of the nightmare to come.

On the basis of your reading of the above passage, choose the correct option from the ones given. Write the correct option in your answer sheet.

- (a) The shuttle carrying Kalpana Chawla exploded in mid-air because ____.
- (i) a bird had hit the shuttle
 - (ii) the heat resistant tiles on the left wing of the shuttle were damaged
 - (iii) there was too much of heat in the atmosphere
 - (iv) the shuttle had got excessively heated up
- (b) Kalpana Chawla was aptly named because ____
- (i) she was very thoughtful
 - (ii) she was very helpful
 - (iii) she was very imaginative
 - (iv) she was very ambitious
- (c) She was called by USA because ____.
- (i) she was the first girl to opt for Aerospace Engineering
 - (ii) she had topped the aeronautical course
 - (iii) she was one of the seven girls who had joined the engineering college
 - (iv) she had designed a beautiful science model

- (d) NASA carries out student exchange programme to _____.
(i) prepare the next generation of astronauts to take over the charge
(ii) make the future generations aware of the scientific research carried out by it
(iii) enable the foreign students learn something about USA's science programme
(iv) prepare them for future risks
- (e) According to Kalpana, the three pre-requisites for success are _____.
(i) hardwork, creativity and perseverance
(ii) vision, courage and perseverance
(iii) imagination, courage and vigilance
(iv) hardwork, imagination and perseverance

A PAGE FROM MY DIARY

There are five people at our table, including myself. I've already learnt a great deal about them in the short time we have been at sea, although we rarely meet except at meal times.

First of all, there is Dr Stone, my favourite, I must confess. He is a man of about sixty five, with grey hair and a humorous face. He gave up his practice a short while ago and is now travelling round the world before he retires to some quiet country village. During the day, he sits on the deck reading or else gazes out to sea through an old fashioned telescope .

Then there is "grandmother". I call her that because I cannot recall her name. In spite of being a grandmother, she looks remarkably young, not more than forty five. She is on her way to visit a daughter who emigrated to Australia some years ago. Naturally she is very excited at the thought of seeing her again and her three grand children whom she has never seen.

Then there is a man I do not care for very much, an engineer by the name of Barlo. He has been on leave in England and is now returning to his work in Singapore. He seems to be full of energy; he swims or plays tennis, the best part of the day. I have never in my life met a man with such a loud laugh.

The other person who sits at our table is Mrs. Hunt. I have found out hardly anything about her. She is extremely quiet and rarely talks, except to consult the doctor about her children's various ailments. She is on her way to join her husband in India.

On the basis of your reading of the above passage, choose the correct option from the ones given. Write the correct option in your answer sheet.

- (a) Dr Stone is travelling round the world because _____.
(i) he likes meeting people
(ii) he is having a holiday before he retires
(iii) he wants to visit the places he knew in the past
(iv) he enjoys travelling abroad

- (b) The writer calls the second person at the table “grandmother” because ____.
- (i) she looks old
 - (ii) she has three grand children
 - (iii) he has not been told her name
 - (iv) he has forgotten her name
- (c) The word ‘remarkably’ in the above context means ____.
- (i) attractively
 - (ii) quite
 - (iii) noticeably
 - (iv) extraordinarily
- (d) The phrase ‘on leave’ means ____.
- (i) about to go
 - (ii) away from work
 - (iii) absent
 - (iv) at home
- (e) Dr Stone _____ after he has travelled round the world.
- (i) will start his practice
 - (ii) will retire to some country village
 - (iii) will serve abroad as a doctor
 - (iv) will have grey hair

Why is a square boxing area called a ring? The answer is that the term “ring” was first applied not to the boxing area but to the spectators who formed a ring around the combatants, according to Brewer’s Dictionary of Phrase and Fable.

Although hand-to hand combat was probably invented by the first two-year-old boy to discover he had a younger sibling, the first public boxing matches took place in early 18th century England. These were bare-knuckled affairs with no time limits, no ropes and no referees. The winner was the last man standing. The ring of blood thirsty fans formed an enclosure for the pugilists.

Eventually, as boxers made more money for their efforts, small arenas were built with rings demarcated by wooden barriers or heavy ropes. The current ring, with three or four ropes tied to turnbuckles on corner posts, is the descendant.

Although sanctioning bodies mandate the size of boxing rings, professional wrestling has no such requirement. In many venues, the same rings are used for boxing and wrestling. Amateur wrestling is done on mats laid across a floor.

Ironically, the action in amateur wrestling is demarcated by a circle, yet it isn’t called a ring. None of this makes sense without the historical perspective.

Probably that’s why the most common slang term for the ring in professional wrestling is ‘the squared circle’.

On the basis of your reading of the above passage, choose the correct option from the ones given. Write the correct option in your answer sheet.

- (a) Boxing in the past took place without _____.
(i) ropes, referees, gloves and time limit
(ii) referees, ring, ropes and time limit
(iii) ropes, knuckles, referees and time limit
(iv) knuckles, ring, gloves and time limit
- (b) The phrase 'blood thirsty fans' means _____.
(i) diehard fans
(ii) fans who want the boxers to die
(iii) fans who are thirsty for the blood of the boxers
(iv) many fans
- (c) The hidden irony in the action of amateur wrestling is that _____.
(i) amateur wrestling is done on mats
(ii) the action is defined by a circle, still it isn't called a ring
(iii) the action is defined by a square still it is called a square circle
(iv) it doesn't have a historical perspective
- (d) The antonym for winner can be _____.
(i) friend
(ii) opponent
(iii) loser
(iv) champion
- (e) The term 'sanctioning bodies' refers to _____.
(i) the boxers
(ii) profit making organizations
(iii) people who are in charge of making rings
(iv) bodies deciding the rules of the game

Speech is a great blessing but it can also be a great curse, for while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to our fellows, it can also, if we use it carelessly, make our attitude completely misunderstood. A slip of the tongue, the use of an unusual word, or of an ambiguous word, and so on, may create an enemy where we had hoped to win a friend. Again, different classes of people use different vocabularies, and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as pompous. Unwittingly, we may use a word which bears a different meaning to our listener from what it does to men of our own class. Thus speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought, but one which demands careful handling. Only a fool will express himself alike to all kinds and conditions of men.

On the basis of your reading of the above passage, choose the correct option from the ones given. Write the correct option in your answer sheet.

- (a) Speech can be a course, because it can _____.
(i) reveal our intentions
(ii) lead to carelessness
(iii) create misunderstanding
(iv) clear misunderstandings
- (b) The expression 'slip of the tongue' means saying something _____.
(i) wrongly by chance
(ii) without giving proper thought
(iii) to hurt another person
(iv) to cause harm knowingly
- (c) The best way to win a friend is to avoid _____.
(i) ambiguity in speech
(ii) using extraordinary vocabulary
(iii) ironical remarks
(iv) making witty speeches
- (d) While talking to an uneducated person, we should use _____.
(i) polite language
(ii) simple vocabulary
(iii) extraordinary vocabulary
(iv) ornamental language
- (e) If one used the same style of language with everyone, one would sound _____.
(i) foolish
(ii) boring
(iii) confident
(iv) depressing
